

BETH KEAN
CEO
LOS ANGELES MUSEUM OF THE HOLOCAUST

Beth Kean is currently CEO of Los Angeles Museum of the Holocaust, the first survivor founded Holocaust Museum in the United States. Beth has 25 years of experience in the finance sector, as well as two decades of involvement with non-profits.

Prior to her current role, she served as Principal of KeanWeir Research and Advisory where she researched and provided strategic advice on different tools and trends in impact investing. She consulted for a non-profit organization in the early childhood sector to help develop a pay for success project around improving child outcomes in Los Angeles County.

Before KeanWeir, Beth worked at Capital Group Companies in Los Angeles for 13 years where she served as Chairman of the Risk Management Committee. She began her career in 1989 at Salomon Brothers in New York as a quantitative analyst for fixed income products and later served as Vice President on the Fixed Income Trading Floor. Beth lives in Santa Monica with her husband, Jon and both of her kids are currently in college.
