

Hannah Yaritz
Executive Director

Experience: Hannah’s professional fundraising experience spans from working with individual donors to extensive capital campaigns. From campaign planning and management, to implementing feasibility and planning studies, Hannah has a broad range of experience with CCS. Her feasibility study engagements include extensive strategic conversations, peer benchmarking, prospect qualification and campaign approaches. Hannah has directed successful campaigns through strategic planning and execution with an emphasis on major gifts.

Hannah’s experience with the healthcare sector has been diverse; working with small hospital foundations, to large regional networks. She has implemented major gift programs, grateful patient efforts, staff giving campaigns, and has conducted campaign feasibility and planning studies. Through these partnerships she gained a thorough understanding of the particular opportunities and challenges of the sector, particularly as the healthcare landscape evolves.

Passion for Philanthropy: Hannah’s passion for philanthropy stems from her Alma Mater, Marquette University. She believes it is her duty to be a woman for others, and to serve the greater community.

Professional Affiliations: Institute for Leaders in Development, 2015 Graduate; Colorado Planned Giving Roundtable, Member; Association of Fundraising Professionals, Colorado Chapter; National Association of Charitable Gift Planners, Member

Personal: Hannah is a native of Minnesota, but currently resides Denver, Colorado. She is actively involved with her university, serving on alumni boards, supporting student recruitment, and volunteering with service activities.

Education: B.A. Marquette University
