

Heather McClean

Director of Development Operations and Policy, The Barack Obama Foundation

Heather McClean is the Director of Development Operations and Policy at The Barack Obama Foundation. As a member of the development leadership team, she oversees the prospect research and gift management teams and has primary responsibility for setting the Development team's fundraising goals and metrics, drafting gift agreements for donors, and developing gift acceptance guidelines, including naming opportunities and fundraising reporting. Prior to joining the Obama Foundation, Ms. McClean served as the Director of Gift Planning, Gift Policy, and Global Engagement Liaison in the Office of Gift Planning at the University of Chicago. In that role, she counseled donors and their advisers on complex giving techniques and was the liaison for matters involving international giving and non-U.S. alumni. Ms. McClean also spent several years as an associate in the Chicago office of the law firm Baker McKenzie, with a focus on acquisitions and project finance. She is a graduate of Vassar College and Northwestern University Pritzker School of Law.
